

Contents

Foreword	9
Introduction	12
Chapter 1: Gang Life
1. Getting to Know Gangbangers	16
Skip Hollandsworth
After spending time getting to know a group of Houston gangbangers, a reporter relates some of the highlights of their conversations.
2. The Ups and Downs of Gang Life	30
Jorge Fuentes, as told to Celeste Fremon
A gang member discusses some of what he considers to be the good and the bad aspects of being part of a gang.
3. Choosing Not to Join a Gang	36
Anonymous
A high school boy who has chosen to be friends with gang members but not join a gang himself relates his observations about gang life.
4. Life Turned Around by Reading the Bible	41
Jeremiah Utley
A young man talks about his choice to join a gang at age twelve and how his life was turned around when he began reading the Bible in his prison cell.
5. Released from Prison and Adjusting to the Outside World	47
Reymundo Sanchez
A gang member discusses his release from prison and his transition into an office job.

Chapter 2: The Impact of Gang-Related Violence

1. An Innocent Bystander Falls Victim to Gang Violence 57
Harry Fletcher
A man recounts the events surrounding a bystander's death in a gang-related shooting in a London suburb.
2. A Prison Guard Gives His Perspective 62
Bill Valentine
A former prison guard talks about his experiences in a question-and-answer session.
3. A Gang Member's Funeral 69
Peter W. Marty
A Lutheran pastor had never had much experience with gangs until he was asked to preside at a gang member's funeral.
4. A Teacher's Perspective 73
M. Garrett Bauman
An inner-city teacher reflects on the violence that is prevalent in the lives of his students.

Chapter 3: Working to Curtail Gang Activity

1. Slowing Down Gang Recruitment 79
Laura Stevens
A man who was a gang member in the 1950's is interviewed about workshops he conducts teaching students about the realities of gang life.
2. A Former Gang Member Helps Girls Find Other Options 84
Isis Sapp-Grant, as told to Mary E. Medland
A woman who was once a gang member tells the story of how she got out of gang life and founded an organization that helps other girls.

3. A Counselor Talks about Her Work with Gang Members Lisa Taylor-Austin A psychotherapist and counselor describes her career working with gang members.	88
4. Tookie Williams Speaks from Death Row Stanley Tookie Williams, interviewed by Amy Goodman A short time before his execution at San Quentin, Tookie Williams was interviewed about his thoughts on the death penalty, and encouraged gang members to change their lifestyle.	92
5. A Church Community Offers an Alternative to Gangs Romulo Emiliani, interviewed by National Catholic Reporter A Catholic bishop in Honduras describes how he ap- proaches youth with love, offering them a sense of caring and community, which is one of the things that they find attractive about gang life.	102
6. An Ex-Prisoner Becomes a Gang Specialist for the Police Pernell Brown A former gang member and prison inmate talks about his work as a Gang Specialist with the Portland Police.	105
Organizations to Contact	110
For Further Research	118
Index	120